

The Marriage Colors

THE MARRIAGE COLORS

Bill Jackson Arvin, 1941

White, Oh white, oh white, oh dear - White, Oh white color Jenkins I wouldn't wear white Cause you'd see it at night I'll buy me a hum-a-dum-a-diddle-a-daddle-dubble-wubble sackajus-a-boddle-a-bindin's - To wear with the roobajum jenkins.

Pink, Oh pink, oh pink, oh dear Pink, Oh pink color Jenkins I wouldn't wear pink Cause the color would stink I'll buy me a hum-a-dum-a-diddle-a-daddle-dubble-wubble sackajus-aboddle-a-bindin's - To wear with the roobajum jenkins.

Brown, Oh brown, oh brown, oh dear Brown, Oh brown color Jenkins I wouldn't wear brown Cause it's the color of the town I'll buy me a hum-a-dum-a-diddle-a-daddle-dubblewubble sackajus-a-boddle-a-bindin's - To wear with the roobajum jenkins.

Green, Oh green, oh green, oh dear Green, Oh green color Jenkins I wouldn't wear green Cause the color could be seen I'll buy me a hum-a-dum-a-diddle-a-daddle-dubble-wubble sackajus-a-boddle-a-bindin's - To wear with the roobajum jenkins.

*This song was explained by Mrs. Myra Pipkin with the following rhymes:

Marry in white You're sure to be right.

Marry in blue You're sure to be true.

Marry in green You're ashamed to be seen.

Marry in brown You'll live in town.

Library of Congress

Marry in red You'll wish yourself dead.

THE MARRIAGE COLORS

Marry in black You'll wish yourself back.

“Should always get married in white or blue - right and true.”
